Profile

I'm a Software Engineer with about 10 years of work experience. I'm able to proficiently tackle almost any technology stack that you can throw at me. Thus far I've mostly written code in Python, Clojure, ClojureScript, JavaScript, TypeScript, PHP or Swift. Going forward I'm looking to specialize in Python related back-end development to really become an expert in one particular domain.

I maintain a variety of open source projects on my Github written in Python, Swift, Clojure, PHP and more. Suffice it to say, I have been building digital products in all shapes and sizes for my entire adult life. Building products is my passion and I'm always open to challenges, however large they may be.
